HORSE INDUSTRY BOARD

Director and Co-Founder of Days End Farm Horse Rescue, a leading Equine shelter for horses suffering from severe cruelty or neglect for over 18 years, Kathy has become nationally recognized as an authority on the subject of equine abuse, lecturing on related topics to horse owners and professional animal workers throughout the country. Kathy has produced a nationally distributed kit entitled Guidelines for Establishing a Non-Profit Rescue Facility that is available to others wishing to help rescue horses in their own community. Under Kathy's management, Days End Farm Horse Rescue has been awarded the "Best in America" seal of approval by Independent Charities of America since 2005 for adhering to the highest standards of accountability and for managing the organizations finances in an efficient and effective manner. She also accepted the "Lavin Cup" award from the American Association of Equine Practitioners on behalf of Days End Farm Horse Rescue. The "Lavin Cup" award is given to organizations or individuals for having demonstrated exceptional compassion or developed and enforced rules and guidelines for the welfare of the horse.
